2019 Season Inaugural Tour And Brunch Silver Fork Lodge, Brighton Saturday May 11

Having opened the season with several great indoor events, including Cat Dance—see next page—it's time for a driving event!

Once again we'll rendezvous and drive up Big Cottonwood Canyon for brunch at the famed Silver Fork Lodge at Brighton.

We've done this for several past years, though for some reason we missed out last year.

The folks at Silver Fork always to a great job seating, serving, and feeding us, so it's sure to be another fun event.

Jim Klekas is organizing this run, and has asked us to meet at the Walmart (formerly Kmart) lot on Parley's Way at 9:30am for a 10:00am departure.

The brunch time is 11:00am in case you're coming independently.

Please call, email or text Jim Klekas to let him know if you're coming, and if so, how many, so he can give the restaurant an accurate count.

If we have enough classic cars Silver Fork may even give us some reserved parking.

Cat Dance Film Festival Saturday April 27

Another great Cat Dance Film Festival was held on Saturday, April 27th

Barry treated us with his own version of dry rub Memphis style pork ribs based on a secret recipe from the famed Rendezvous Restaurant.

After chowing down (you can't say dining with in-your-face pork ribs), we viewed two films at this year's event. The first was a 47 minute documentary titled "Inside Jaguar," detailing the meticulous process of building six new lightweight E-types.

The second film,

50th anniversary this year, is the original "The Italian Job," which stars a young Michael Caine and many British cars, including multiple E-types.

Attending were Bud & Betty Merritt, Tim & Beth Furner, J & Kay Jennings, Jim & Hermione Klekas, Jim Revel, Marvin May, Liz Green, Vinny Collins (neighbor), hosts Barry, Allison and Parker Hanover, and Your Obedient Scribe, Gary Lindstrom.

Ken and JoAnn Borg sent regrets—they were hosting Ken's 80th Birthday Party, attended also by Duane and LeAnn Allred.

Teslas, Get Out Your Extension Cords: Here Comes The Rimac C_Two

BY: ADRIAN PADEANU,
News Editor Motor1.com

Supercar enthusiasts have a lot of reasons to get excited about automakers embracing electrification as plenty of zero-emissions machines have been announced with staggering technical specifications.

Case in point, Rimac unveiled the C_Two nearly a year ago in Geneva and now they're about to show the bonkers electric hypercar with a fresh new coat of paint.

Dressed in Arctic White with exquisite deep blue-tinted carbon fiber body elements, the C-Two for the 2019 Geneva Motor Show represents Rimac's way of telling us everything is going according to the plan.

Prototypes of the electric beast are already in production, and the Croatian marque hints at powertrain improvements set to be implemented in the customer-spec production cars due in 2020.

The showcar's interior cabin is also a sight to behold thanks to a matte carbon fiber theme combined with petroleum blue for the leather noticeable on the seats, door cards, steering electric motors with a combined output of 1,914 horsepower and an instant torque of 2,300 Newton-meters (1,696 pound-feet).

It's enough electric punch for a sprint to 60 mph (96 kph) in precisely 1.85 seconds, with the 0-186 mph (0-300 kph) taking just 11.8 seconds.

Thanks to a large 120-kWh battery pack, the Rimac C_Two can travel for 550 kilometers (342 miles) as per WLTP or 650 km (404 miles) according wheel, the central armrest, and even on the floor mats.

Rimac isn't willing to go into any details for the time being regarding the upgrades they're planning for the powertrain, but they do say these will be possible thanks to "new development efforts."

For the time being, we know the C_Two has four to NEDC.

It will be interesting to see how Rimac is going to improve these already amazing specs. Meanwhile, we can enjoy looking at this gorgeous Geneva-bound showcar that will be on display starting tomorrow.
