British Field Day Postponed —We Hope

British Field Day, which has become the WMJR’s most well-attended car show and social event, will not happen as planned on Saturday June 20.

Jon Hermance, the key organizer of this event, has advised that the City Parents (can’t say Fathers anymore) have forbidden it to take place, at least then.

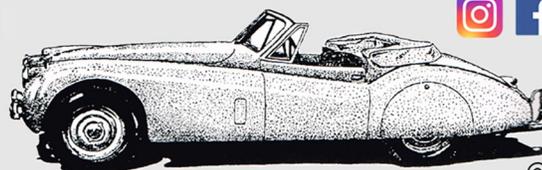

There is still hope it may be rescheduled for later this summer or next fall, but who knows.

Just to add to the downer nature of this article, Jon remarks that the pocket auto-cross timed event will no long be offered, due to insurance reasons.

What a world we live in!
