No Dues Is Good Dues!

The officers will meet soon to plan activities for the coming year. If you have any suggestions, please call Gary, Jim,

11 Rural Restaurants Around Utah That Are So Worth The Drive

OnlyInYourState.com by Catherine Armstrong, November 18, 2018

Utah's not especially well-known for its culinary scene, but if you're looking for five-star cuisine with fancy chefs and pricey menu items, you'll certainly find several restaurants to choose from in our bigger cities like Salt Lake and Park City. Of course, there are lesser-known hidden gems all over the Beehive State, and these 11 rural restaurants around Utah are well worth the drive.

We're aware that these uncertain times are limiting many aspects of life. While we continue to feature destinations that make our state wonderful, please take proper precautions or add them to your bucket list to see at a later date. If you know of a local business that could use some extra support during these times, please nominate them here: onlyinyourstate.com/nominate

2. Road Island Diner, Oakley

1. Sego Restaurant, Kanab

This surprisingly upscale restaurant tucked away in the Canyons Hotel offers creative, gourmet food at reasonable prices. The menu is made up of small plates that are meant to be shared at your table, giving everyone the opportunity to try several different dishes. 190 N. 300 W., Kanab, Utah.

2. Road Island Diner, Oakley

This diner classic has been around since 1939, and it's still serving up some of the best comfort food in the state. You'll love the classic dining car atmosphere, too. 981 W. Weber Canyon Rd., Oakley, UT 84055.

3. Grogg's Pinnacle Brewing Co., Price

A gourmet burger in Price? Yes, indeed. Grogg's Pinnacle Brewing Co. has some of the best burgers in the Beehive State, and the service is super friendly, too. You'll find it at 1653 N. Carbonville Rd., Helper, UT 84526.

4. Hells Backbone Grill, Boulder

Blake Spaulding and Jennifer Castle created a culinary masterpiece in the tiny, remote town of Boulder. Their restaurant sources everything locally, and the menu changes with the season. It's received multiple awards and has been a James Beard Award semi-finalist. You'll understand why when you visit. 20 UT-12, Boulder, UT 84716.

5. Hi-Mountain Drug, Kamas

Visit Hi-Mountain Drug for the atmosphere. No, it's not a white-tablecloth kind of place...it's exactly the opposite. This little gem is hidden away in a drugstore, and it serves delicious burgers, fries, and shakes. It's been named Utah's Best Burger for multiple years. 40 N. Main St., Kamas, UT 84036.

6. Vernal Brewing Co., Vernal

You might be surprised to find such a modern restaurant in this town that's better-known for its dinosaur bones and mining history, but this little brewery and restaurant is serving up some incredible, fresh menu items. You'll also find a host of innovative craft beers here. 55 S. 500 E., Vernal, UT 84078.

7. Taggart's Grill, Morgan

Visit Taggart's Grill for the delicious seafood, steaks, and burgers, but fall in love with the dessert case that's stuffed with all kinds of decadent, homemade treats. Say hello to the peacocks while you're there. 1105 Taggart Ln., Morgan, UT 84050.

8. Oscar's Cafe, Springdale

When you're visiting Zion National Park, and you can't decide whether you want Mexican food, burgers, BBQ, or pizza, you might want to find yourself a table at Oscar's Cafe. It has a little bit of everything, and it's all delicious. 948 Zion – Mount Carmel Hwy., Springdale, UT 84767.

9. Idle Isle Cafe, Brigham City

6. Vernal Brewing Co., Vernal alone to make the drive. 24 S. Main St., Brigham City, UT 84302.

10. Sagebrush Grill, Richfield

Don't let the exterior of Sagebrush Grill fool you - this place has some of the juiciest prime rib in the Beehive State. Steak, salmon, and grilled chicken round out the menu, and you'll enjoy the upscale interior, too. 1345 S. 350 W., Richfield, UT 84701

11. Dairy Keen - Home of the Train, Heber

You won't want to miss this icon located in Heber. You'll love the model train that travels around the ceiling, and the burgers, fries, and shakes are tasty, too. Get the Train Burger, topped with ham, Swiss and American cheeses, and plenty of fry sauce. 199 S. Main Street, Heber, UT 84032.

10 More Car Museums You Need To Visit Online Just Keep Your Keyboard Drool-Free, Please

Rory Jurnecka, Automobile Magazine, Apr 6, 2020
(Read Online For Active Links)

Staying cooped up at home is bound to give you cabin fever, but we've got a virtual solution. Here are 10 of our fa-

Lane Motor Museum

If Ferraris and Porsches are too mainstream for you,

Blackhawk Collection

Centered near the Blackhawk

vorite car museums to visit online, in addition to the collections we've already highlighted. Most offer virtual tours in one form or another, but all give you plenty of photos, information, and education about the cars, trucks, and motorcycles you love—so dive on in!

click on over to the Lane Motor Museum, based in Nashville. As a car museum home for the quirky, unloved, and just plain strange automobiles companies produced through the years, the Lane makes for a very unique visit. Don't know what a 1950 A. Morin Scootavia Tripousse is? You will soon by clicking here.

Country Club in Danville, California, the Blackhawk Collection is home to an eclectic mix of cars. From pre-war American classics through mid-century European exotics and 1970s muscle cars, the Blackhawk has something for everyone.

Mercedes-Benz Museum

One of our favorite car museums abroad is the official Mercedes-Benz Museum in Stuttgart, Germany. We especially love the banked-track display where dozens of historic Mercedes race cars are positioned as if they were frozen mid-race. There's nothing like visiting the museum in person, but we will happily take the virtual tour as a temporary substitute.

Marconi Automotive Museum

The Marconi Automotive Museum in Orange County, California, is well known for both its charity events and its cars. This car museum holds plenty of Ferraris (including not one, but two F50s) and other exotics, as well as race cars both classic and contemporary. Oh, and there's a Williams F1 car hanging on the wall. We especially love the virtual tour offered on the Marconi's website.

Indianapolis Motor Speedway Museum

The Indianapolis Motor

Speedway Museum is always worth a visit if you're at the track for a race event, but it's even a destination to check out from your home computer. Many of the museum's holdings are viewable on its website, along with plenty of historical information. If you're feeling spendy, you can even sponsor an exhibit for a donation, which will attach your name to one of many legendary cars on display.

Museo Lamborghini

Among the cars we can stare at for hours, Lamborghini has created quite a few. Head to the official Museo Lamborghini for a look at the brand's heritage models, and don't miss this memorable car museum's virtual tour you can take using Google Street View.

LeMay: America's Car Museum

The LeMay, as it's known to locals in Tacoma, Washington, is a multi-level car museum with both interesting architecture and history. It was founded by Harold "Lucky" LeMay, a self-made man who amassed a fortune in the refuse-and-wrecking business. LeMay's sizable car collection was built over decades and originally kept in a decommissioned school building; the gorgeous structure now housing the collection was built after LeMay's death, and you can view many of the cars it holds on the LeMay website.

Gateway Auto Museum

Taking its name from Gateway, Colorado, where the museum is located, this automotive treasure trove was founded by John Hendricks, the founder of Discovery

Channel. With a focus on American automobiles, you'll find everything from a 1906 Cadillac to a 1967 Shelby GT500 once owned by Carroll himself. The virtual tour lets you take a walk around the place without leaving your living room.

Porsche Museum

Travel to Stuttgart, Germany, is difficult to impossible right now, which is why we recommend firing up your Internet browser and taking a virtual roam through the many cars on display at Porsche's factory car museum. From the earliest Porsche models and prototypes straight through to the marque's most recent race cars, the Porsche Museum is truly world class.

National Corvette Museum

With Chevrolet shutting down its production lines, you might have to wait a little longer for your brand new 2020 C8 Corvette to be built. Not to worry, the National Corvette Museum has a virtual tour available on Google Street View that will help tide you over until the delivery day, which hopefully is at the museum itself.
