

Rec. League Enters Playoffs

By Bruce Henderson

The Recreation Department's Men's Basketball League completed their regular season last Thursday with Wasatch Homes finishing in first place with an unblemished 6 wins, 0 defeats record. The Red Banjo ended up in second place with 4 wins and 2 losses, while the Claimjumper finished strong to tie Kamas Valley Lumber for third place.

The feature game of the week involved Wasatch Homes and Kamas Valley Lumber. Darrel Thomas of Kamas poured in a season high of 31 points and teammate Kerry Lambert followed with 22, but it wasn't enough to stop the high scoring Wasatch Homes squad. Wasatch came away with a 94 to 73 win—the third time this season they have scored more than 90 points. This is no easy task when you play 20 minute halves, running time except for the last 2 minutes on each half when the clock stops at each official's whistle. Dan Birdfish led Wasatch with 26 points while Kelly Mutcher added 21.

The teams will finish this season's play with an elimination tournament beginning tonight, February 1st. The championship and consolation championship games will be played in the Memorial Bldg. February 13th.

Nordic Team Has Sights Set On Trial At Lake Placid

Members of the U.S. Nordic Ski Teams now have their sights set on Lake Placid trial competitions, February 7-11, which will test the Olympic facilities for the first time in international competition. A strong field of foreign competitors is expected for those events and this will give the U.S. skiers a chance to see if the "home course" is indeed an advantage.

excellent new facilities in lieu of training at Lake Placid where the 90 meter jump is just now being readied for jumping. Jim Denney showed the form which has made him one of the world's best by easily winning both 90 meter com-

In route to Lake Placid, the cross-country team stopped at Waterville Valley, New Hampshire for the National Cross-Country Championships, January 27-February 2. The top members of the A team have just returned from the European World Cup circuit where Alison Owen-Spencer led U.S. girls to some surprisingly strong finishes. At the conclusion of the first half of World Cup competition, Owen-Spencer ranks 6th and Leslie Bancroft 16th overall which is remarkable for a team which could barely place racers in the top half at the World Championships last year. The women's relay team placed 5th in two consecutive relay events at Klingenthal, DDR, and Le Brassus, SUI. The men's teams did not have as much success as the women's during their 18 day, poor weather plagued trip. Bill Koch had some excellent relay legs and finished 14 in the 15 km in Reit-im-Winkl, BRD to complete the first half of the World Cup in 18th place. Stan Dunklee, who fell victim to wax problems during the European tour, is in 29th place. The men will be setting out to prove that they are better than the results to date show when they meet the Europeans again in Lake Placid.

petitions on the weekend as well as the 70 meter jump earlier in the week. Prior to arriving in Lake Placid, the jumping team will split its forces and compete this weekend in Thunder Bay, Ontario, in the Canadian National Championships as well as in Eau Claire, Wisconsin for the U.S. Central Division Championships. Competing in Thunder Bay will be: Jim Denney, Duluth, Minnesota; Jeff Denney, Duluth, Minnesota; John Broman,

Duluth, Minnesota; Terry Kern, Duluth, Minnesota; Ki Sundgaard, St. Paul, Minnesota; Chris McNeill, Polaris, Montana. They will be accompanied by head jumping coach Glenn Kotlarek also from Duluth, Minnesota. Competing in Eau Claire will be: Steve Haik, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Jeff Davis, Steamboat Springs, Colorado; Jon Denney, Duluth, Minnesota; Mark Solner, Madison Wisconsin. They will be accompanied by assistant jumping coach Pentti Ranta of Duluth, Minnesota.

Members of the Nordic Combined Team will be training in the east following their National Championships which were held last weekend in Steamboat Springs, Colorado. Former USST member Mike Devecka won yet another National title in a field that was depleted by illness and scheduling problems. The Nordic Combined skiers will compete in Laconia, New Hampshire, February 3-5, as a final tune-up prior to the Lake Placid events.

The jumping team has just completed a series of competitions on the 70 and 90 meter jumps in Steamboat Springs, Colorado. The team has been training at that site for ten days on the Men and women racers from the University of Utah cross-country team showed their skill at the White Pine Touring Center in the fifth Wasatch Nordic Series race held Saturday.

Topping the men's expert class was the U. of U.'s Svein Arne Olsen, who completed 15 km in 45:49 minutes, just one second ahead of Jan Bjorkheim, also from the university team.

Four U. of U. lady team members raced a 7 km sprint race with Ellen Dehn winning with a 28:49 minute time. This gave her a comfortable lead over second place finisher Vicki Vanemkevurt at 33:25.

Local Steve Erickson finished 15 km in 56:10 for the best time among the non-U. of U. racers in the men's expert class. And local Dee Christiansen took first in the women's 15 km expert class race with a 70:32 time.

Saturday's race was sponsored by Edsbyn Skis, Village Sports Den, and the U. of U. ROTC. On Saturday, February 3, the White Pine Touring Center will again be the site for the next Wasatch Series race—the "Ski for Easter Seals" marathon.

It's Definitely For The Birds

Each year during a two week period centered around the Christmas season, bird watchers across the country participate in what's considered the event of the year—the Audubon Christmas Bird Count. Annually more than 30,000 individuals count birds at over 1,250 locations.

In Utah, counts are taken from Logan and the Bear River Migratory Refuge in the north to Kanab, Zions National Park and St. George in the south. Salt Lake, Provo and Cedar City round out Utah's eight count centers, which include areas 15 miles in diameter centered at each location. Participants include employees of state and federal conservation agencies, university professors, teachers, students and many other individuals from local communities.

Recreation Laws

According to Ed Rawley, wildlife planner with the Division of Wildlife Resources, several bills presently before the Utah Legislature will be of interest to the State's recreationists. One, he says, could have far-reaching effects on access to land—private and public—across the state.

under which trespass occurs. In effect, says Rawley, this bill (HB 114, introduced by Garth Jones—R, Cedar City) would close all private land to access unless permission were explicitly given or the landowner posted the land open to access.

For the fourth time in recent legislative sessions a trespass bill has been introduced which would change the circumstances

"We see problems with the situation, especially in a state with such a large percentage of public land," says Rawley. "And most of this public land is open range and forest land."
